International Institute of Welding (IIW)

10. Call for Sponsorship

The 75th IIW Annual Assembly and International Conference will be the world's largest international conference on welding and joining to be held in Japan for the first time in 18 years. Aiming for the development of not only the Japanese welding industries but also industries in general, we have designed the engaging programmes under the theme of carbon neutrality that would engage people from both academia and the industries. Many keynote speeches are planned to be presented by the leading figures from various industries in Japan and from other countries. With more than 1,000 attendees expected, this conference would attract wide range of attentions from various fields. We expect that you would acknowledge the prospectus of this conference and its marketing impact, and we look forward to your support.
